(*) Please note that any small differences between the Overall Score and the added total of Measurement Theme scores are due to rounding the numbers at different stages of the score calculation process.

Please note also that the "Not met" labels in the Explanation boxes below do not necessarily mean that the company does not meet the requirements as they are described in the bullet point short text. Rather, it means that the analysts could not find information in public sources that met the requirements as described in full in the CHRB 2018 Methodology document. For example, a "Not met" under "General HRs Commitment", which is the first bullet point for indicator A.1.1, does not necessarily mean that the company does not have a general commitment to human rights. Rather, it means that the CHRB could not identify a public statement of policy in which the company commits to respecting human rights.

- Score 1
  - Met: HR affects selection of suppliers: The company indicates that the Vendor/Supplier Code of Conduct sets forth the commitment of Macy’s to do business only with those manufacturers and suppliers that share its commitment to fair and safe labor practices. The report on social responsibility states that "Before conducting business with a new factory, our independent third-party monitor performs thorough audits. Free On Board (FOB) suppliers – those with whom we directly contract – undergo a combined Vendor Code and Security audit. Landed Duty Paid (LPD) suppliers – typically U.S.-based companies that source overseas or in the United States – undergo Vendor Code audit. In every case, suppliers must meet or exceed our minimum standards before being approved for production and enrolled in our merchandise order system’. [Report on Social Responsibility, 2017: macysinc.com]
  - Met: HR affects on-going supplier relationships: The social responsibility report indicates that “if our auditors identify a High Risk violation at a factory, the response may include removing the factory and/or supplier from our data base or some other type of immediate response”. The Company discloses the number of factories terminated and that fell under the “the High Risk category”. [Report on Social Responsibility, 2017: macysinc.com]

As CHRB Ltd, we want to emphasise that the results will always be a proxy for good human rights management, and not an absolute measure of performance. This is because there are no fundamental units of measurement for human rights. Human rights assessments are therefore necessarily more subjective than objective. The Benchmark also captures only a snapshot in time. We therefore want to encourage companies, investors, civil society and governments to look at the broad performance bands that companies are ranked within rather than their precise score because, as with all measurements, there is a reasonably wide margin of error possible in interpretation. We also want to encourage a greater analytical focus on how scores improve over time rather than upon how a company compares to other companies in the same industry today. The spirit of the exercise is to promote continual improvement via an open assessment process and a common understanding of the importance of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.
